

The Center for Creativity, Innovation and Discovery

ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNER POLICY

The Center for Creativity, Innovation and Discovery (CCID) will adhere to the Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits discrimination against the basis of race, color or national origin in programs and activities that receive federal financial assistance. Title VI standards governing assessment, identity and services for English Language Learner, ELL students are explained in detail on the USBE website. CCID's policy is to follow regulations mandated by the State Office of Education and Title VI. The CCID Directors and applicable teachers will oversee the appropriate adherence to the policy. Regulations will be followed and assurances will be made to foster the education and learning of these and all students at CCID.